■ 生産・製造工程アピールポイント ※農産物の場合は栽培面積・年間収穫量なども記載

While following traditional sake brewing techniques, we boldly take on the challenge of changing lifestyles to create new and delicious sake."

It is often said that the basics of sake brewing are "1. koji, 2. yeast, and 3. sake making," which is a complex process. Since its establishment in 1867 (Keio 3), Maruhiko Brewery has continued to produce delicious sake while maintaining the traditional techniques of sake as "the sake connoisseur's choice."

In order to produce sake that is second to none, we take the time, effort, and wisdom to pursue this goal. The basis of sake brewing is still the traditional techniques of the brewers.

However, even if the same brewing process is carried out every day, the slightest deviation can be overlooked, and changes can go unnoticed unless each and every one of us focuses our attention on it. Therefore, the brewers of Maruhiko Shuzo are always united in their pursuit of new and beautiful sake.
